Experience

Bill has a long association with Nottingham. He was born and educated in Nottingham and has a keen interest in its heritage, culture and economy. He has business connections in the city and spends a lot of time here – both professionally and personally. Bill feels his continuing career at Bloor Homes will be advantageous to working with Nottingham City Homes.

Bloor Homes is a commercial company producing nearly 450 new affordable homes each year and Bill feels this has helped him to be well briefed on general policy and funding changes. These changes will constantly impact on the subsidised housing sector that is so vital for the community.

Bill hopes that his experience from working in different housing areas and across the country will help people share knowledge and learn from each other.
